

PAUL MATTHEWS

ABOUT ME

AFTER OVER 25 YEARS IN THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY...

I left my career of client management and logistics behind in 2018 to follow my heart. I understand what it takes to build confidence in your clients, and their audience. I excel in Commercial and Retail, but Promo holds my passion. From Corporate Narration to Explainers, you want a casual voice that holds a relatable truth, and a confident but trustworthy tone clients can connect with.

I specialize in construction industry terminology and equipment. My blue-collar roots help provide a sound the end users in Construction or Industrial industries can relate to.

Having been raised and still living in Northern California's Wine Country, I developed a keen fondness for all things wine. As well as Viticulture and horticultural terminology. But don't get me wrong, this country boy still drinks his wine with boots on!

VOCAL DESCRIPTORS

CONFIDENT – RELATABLE - RUGGED

American Male 40-60 range, Baritone, English Speaking. Friendly guy next door, Supervisor, Co-Worker, Friend. I'm a Father, Grandfather and Husband. (No really... I'm all those!) Authoritative, humorous, and kind. I've been called the guy you want to sit on a bench and eat a sandwich with, while talking about life. It's doesn't get more comfortable than that!
